Counselor-in-Training
Girl Leadership Program

A Counselor-In-Training (C.I.T.) is available for any Girl Scout Ambassador, who has completed the 10th grade or above, wants to work in a camp setting, and has completed the C.I.T. workshop. The C.I.T. project enables girls to better understand the Girl Scout practices and principles related to camping and outdoor education. The C.I.T. leadership project was developed to provide Girl Scout Ambassadors the opportunity to experience the challenges and rewards of working with younger girls in an outdoor setting. Becoming a C.I.T. also enables Girl Scout Ambassador to gain insights into the responsibilities of managing a camp through direct involvement in daily administrative activities. Day Camp and Resident Camp are excellent ways girls can complete the service hours required for this recognition.

Once the C.I.T. selects the Grade Level (GS Daisies, GS Brownies, or GS Juniors) with which she would like to work with, she must spend between 5-7 hours observing the girls in a camp setting. Once she has finished her observation, she must spend at least two weeks working with an experienced counselor in a day camp or one week working with a residential camp.
