United Way “Days of Caring” volunteers donate time to help Girl Scouts maintain Camp Torqua in Edwardsville

Glen Carbon, Illinois – Volunteers from the 345th Recruiting Squadron at Scott AFB recently spent the afternoon at Camp Torqua painting picnic tables and benches as part of the United Way’s Days of Caring program. Days of Caring volunteer projects provide participants an opportunity to see first-hand the impact of their United Way contribution. Camp Torqua is located in Edwardsville and is used by thousands of Girl Scouts of Southern Illinois girls and their adult volunteers each year. The Girl Scouts are pleased with the wonderful job the 345th RS volunteers did to help make Camp Torqua a better place for our girls to enjoy their camping and outdoor experience.

The Girl Scouts of River Bluffs Council is a not-for-profit supported by numerous United Ways throughout southern Illinois. The Girl Scouts is a Proud Partner of United Way and provides services to approximately 16,000 girls and 4,800 adult volunteers in a 40 ½ county area throughout southern Illinois.
